

Kent House - NHS CSU

Ashford

"Godfrey Syrett need to be complimented upon their customer focus and service which has been outstanding from pre-installation site visits; to the logistics of delivery on our specified dates; installation: and, post - installation evaluation.

We would therefore highly recommend Godfrey Syrett as a leading provider of office furnishings which are stylish but practical, are comfortable, and offer extremely good value for your pound!"

The Project

We have recently supplied and installed a selection of office and breakout furniture to offices, meeting rooms and staff room areas at Kent House. Following an expansion into 2 new floors; the building now brings together services from across the South East in a regional hub. Competing against a number of furniture suppliers; we were awarded the tender for the project to supply NHS Kent House on the basis of our experience and vast product offering, consistently scoring higher on each evaluation.

Our Solution

The CSU wanted to create a vibrant, modern yet functional office space that their staff could enjoy and take pride in. It was very important for them to create the right environment through their choice of furnishings and colour. Our Key Accounts Manager Maxine, worked closely with the client to identify the best solutions for their requirements. We worked with the client to manage the project; conducting pre-installation site visits, coordinating delivery to their specific dates, and carrying out a post-installation evaluation.
